Vast Spy Chain Was In Existence During Peron's Presidency

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Special investigators disclosed today that "a vast spy chain" existed during the regime of ex-President Peron to watch Argentina's teachers and punish those who opposed the government. Teachers said the government went so far as to enlist students as spies.

During Peron's 10 years as dictator, he and his aides lavished gifts on students, organized them into controllable unions and flooded classrooms with textbooks lauding him and his wife, Eva. An unknown number of teachers and university professors were dismissed from their jobs.

The provisional government which ousted Peron already has tossed out the Peronista textbooks and ordered pictures and statues of Peron and his wife removed from schools.

Wine Sipped in Act Of Hospitality Fatal

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—The "wine" which Mrs. Rose Jones Finigan fatally sipped in a moment of hospitality was described by sheriff's officers today as termite killer fluid.

Inspector F. W. Rosenberg said the 50-year-old personal secretary to film producer C. B. De Mille apparently poured from a wine bottle containing deadly sodium arsenate. The inspector said the bottle had been taken accidentally from the home of Mrs. Finigan's brother-in-law, a termite exterminator.

Mrs. Finigan died yesterday, about 12 hours after taking a sip with a neighbor, Mrs. Dolores Hoyle, 26, who had complained of a cold. Mrs. Hoyle is hospitalized, but expected to recover.

Speck is Found Locked in Car For Whole Week

Speck has been found. Found confined to Keith "Duke" Stivers hunting car since Thursday, Oct. 13. He was found by Miss Judy Stivers who heard him barking while she was emptying some trash near their garage, 1111 West Sixth, Wednesday evening.

The dog apparently got into the car when someone opened the door and into the back seat where he went to sleep. The car was driven by Claybourn Gray, an employee of Stivers at Pete's Pig Pen and did not notice the dog in the seat.

The car was driven to the Stivers home and put in the garage, and there Speck stayed. His barking was not noticed until six days later when Miss Stivers was attracted by the barking. She looked around and finally went to the garage and there was Speck.

Stivers had been worried over the dog, being unable to get out and look for him because of his illness. He is confined to the Bothwell Hospital. An appeal was made by the Stivers family to help look for the pet.

Other than being awfully hungry and mighty dry Speck emerged from the automobile in excellent condition. He quickly made for his hunger and his thirst and all day Thursday spent the day sleeping on the floor at the Pig Pen.

Fair Weather Has Prevailed in Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Midwest Cooled off a little today but fairly pleasant autumn weather prevailed in most of the nation.

There were only a few wet spots. Light rain accompanied the cooler air which moved southeastward across southern Wisconsin and central and southern Lower Michigan. Widely scattered showers were reported in parts of the North Atlantic states, the central Rockies and central Pacific Coast.

It was below freezing in sections of the Dakotas and Minnesota as the cool air mass spread over the north central region and as far south as Kansas. Temperatures dropped as much as 25 degrees in some areas compared to yesterday morning.

There was a little warming in the Southeast with biggest temperature rises reported in Florida. Readings were around normal in most other parts of the country.

Rep. Celler Questions Business Practices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Celler (D-NY) said today House investigators have assembled new evidence of what he called "questionable" practices by businessmen serving the government in an unpaid voluntary capacity.

Celler's Judiciary subcommittee resumes hearings next Tuesday on the government role of "WOCs"—the modern version of the old style dollar-a-year man on loan from business "without compensation."

Discussing the hearings with newsmen, Celler said his subcommittee will air a number of individual cases demonstrating "inconsistencies" in having businessmen serve the government while remaining on their company payrolls.

Stevenson Has Backing Of Senator Lehman

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, acknowledging the backing of Sen. Lehman (D-NY) for the Democratic presidential nomination, says, "I am proud to have this expression of support from so distinguished an American as my old friend Herbert Lehman."

Stevenson also says he is "not counting . . . at all" on the big Democratic convention delegation from New York state, where some powerful party leaders are beating drums for Gov. Averell Harriman for the nomination.

These statements came yesterday and last night along with this declaration by the 1952 candidate: "I haven't even said I'd seek the nomination. However, as I said last July, I expect to have something to say about that in November."

Russia to Yalta Knowing Japs Wanted Peace

TOKYO (AP)—Russia went to the Yalta conference in February 1945 with knowledge Japan wanted to make peace in the Pacific war, says the U. S. investigator who questioned onetime Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo in the postwar war crimes trials.

Official Japanese documents released since the war said the supreme war council decided Sept. 12, 1944, to ask Russia to mediate peace terms.

The interrogator, Roy L. Morgan of Greensboro, N. C., said today that Togo told him Japan received no answer to its request.

However, Togo said Russia did accept a later request to relay conditional peace terms to the United States after U. S. bombers were smashing at Japan, Morgan related.

At Yalta, Russia was granted concessions in return for a pledge to enter the war against Japan three months after the defeat of Germany.

The Soviet Union entered the war six days before Japan surrendered in August 1945.

Morgan, in Tokyo on private law practice, was associate counsel and chief investigator at the Japanese war criminals' trials. Togo died in prison during a 20-year war crimes sentence.

Sharett Says Israel Is Entitled to US Security

JERUSALEM (AP)—Premier Moshe Sharett said last night Israel is entitled to a security guarantee from the United States and the matter should be given urgent attention in Washington.

As a result of Egypt's recent deal to obtain arms from Czechoslovakia, he declared, "it is our bounden duty to prepare for the worst, which seems imminent."

The Israeli premier spoke to a 60-man mission representing the United Jewish Appeal, an American organization which raises funds for Israel.

"We now feel more urgently entitled than ever before to a security treaty with the United States which would go a long way towards buttressing our security and deterring from aggression the forces of evil," Sharett said.

"Our hope is that the U. S. government will regard the idea of a security treaty with Israel, which has long been under discussion and which was recently affirmed in principle, as a direct, urgent issue and one which can now be resolved without waiting for further preliminary developments."

Dr. Paul D. White of Boston, a consultant in President Eisenhower's illness, is scheduled to take part in a panel discussion Sunday on the subject "Rehabilitation and Heart Disease."

Pettis County Roads Oiled Next Summer

More than 2,900 miles of present gravelled state highways will get oil surface treatment next summer under the 1956 oiling program approved by the State Highway Commission last week. This is the largest such program yet to be undertaken by the Commission and will affect roads in every section of the state. The improvements will cost about $5,000,000.

In Pettis County, the roads to be oiled are: Route C, nine miles from the end of present oiled surface southeast to Route W; Route D, 12.9 miles, from U. S. Route 65 west to Route 127; Route J, 2.7 miles, from U. S. Route 65 east; Route V, three miles, from U. S. Route 65 east; Route W, three miles, from Smithton south; Route 127, 11 miles, from Route 52 north to Route Y. Total 41.6 miles.

Surface improvements on this road mileage will be made possible by a lowering of traffic volume requirements necessary before such work is done. Under a revised Commission policy all state highways having an annual daily average of 125 vehicles or more are to be given oil surface treatment.

For the past year the yardstick was 200 vehicles per day and prior to that was 250 vehicles per day. The traffic volume reductions have been made in recognition by the Commission of increasing demands and needs for more dustless surface highways as a service to highway users.

Highway officials emphasized that no roads being maintained as Temporary State Routes under the 10-year highway program are included on the approved list. Nor will such roads be considered until all right of ways needed to develop them to supplementary highway standards have been made available without cost to the state, the roads given permanent state supplementary highway status, and so developed. It was pointed out some such routes even now may have the required count, but even so they can not qualify until the other conditions are met.

Actual application of the bituminous material will not be made until next spring and summer, since that work is a warm weather operation. However, highway maintenance forces already have begun giving special maintenance attention to many of the roads affected to get them ready for the finishing process. Ready work will include necessary grading, ditch cleaning and so on.

Brooklyn Firm Aims At Reviving 'Eagle'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Brooklyn firm has registered a $750,000 stock issue with the aim of reviving the "Brooklyn Eagle."

The stock issue, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission Oct. 19 was offered by Eagle Securities and Exchange Commission. The registration statement said proceeds would be used to take up an option for purchase of the Brooklyn Eagle, Inc., including the right to use the name "Brooklyn Eagle."

The newspaper shut up shop last March after a strike by the American Newspaper Guild which had stopped publication since Jan. 28. The newspaper contended in negotiations that it could not afford to meet a Guild demand for a $5.80 weekly wage - welfare package.

The option, the statement said, is good until Dec. 4, 1955, and was acquired from Robert W. Farrell, described in the statement as president of the Brooklyn Eagle.

Safecracker Calls Self Independent Speculator

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A bald convict, Nick Cascio, brought down the house at the Senate subcommittee narcotics hearing yesterday by blandly testifying, "I'm a self-employed speculator."

He even got a laugh from Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.), who questioned Cascio about his $4,000 income tax statement and his testimony that he had been unemployed since getting out of prison in 1954 after a term for safe cracking.

After the hearing Cascio explained to a Times Herald reporter, "I always speculate on how much will be in a box (safe) when I start to open it."

Sunday School Lesson Notes: Ladies' Guild Meets Sunday At Immanuel

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
I think it was Oscar Wilde who quipped that the thing to do with temptation is to yield to it.

The cynical remark was probably never intended for anything but a quip, but it had a sinister and tragic meaning, when one considers the terrible tragedy that befell that brilliant man. I like to think of men and women in life and in literature as they are, and were, at their best; not in failure and downfall. Oscar Wilde had a moral and social downfall, the depths of which he himself described in "De Profundis," the book that he wrote in prison. "The Ballad of Reading Gaol" was composed later.

I like to think of Oscar Wilde in what he wrote in the depths of his suffering about Jesus as among the poets—an interpretation of the life of Christ very different from that of the theologians and churchmen, but full of insight, and perceiving in his own sufferings what conventional readers of the Gospels have missed.

"De Profundis" is what its title implies, a book written out of the depths. It is a book to set one thinking, and I commend it, particularly its usual, but penetrative, conception of Christ.

But much as one may see men at their best, there is a dark side to their falls and failings that cannot be ignored.

It was not a weak man, but a man of amazing strength of will and character, who feared that even he might be a castaway, if he did not discipline himself against temptation (I Corinthians 9:27).

I began the above with the quip about temptation, that the thing to do is to yield to it. Because, expressed or implied, that is a very common part of the philosophy and practice of today.

"Do what you will," is a common attitude. "Trust your instincts." "Beware of inhibitions and restraints"—these are the popular maxims, enforced often by professed guides who associate frustrations and restraints with nervousness.

Hal Boyle's Column—Debunks Old Standby Device Of Columnists to Catch Eye

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (U)—A human skull rolled out on the table, and the duchess cried, "Take your hands off me!"

Let any mystery arise from the foregoing sentence, let me hasten to explain. I wrote it only to please two of my oldest critics.

A dozen years ago I took up that odd kind of mental carpentering called newspaper columnizing.

Over all those years a news friend has told me perhaps a thousand times, "the only way to interest readers is to startle them at the start. You should begin every column with the sentence, 'A human skull rolled out on the table'—and then go on and write about whatever else you have in mind."

Another news friend has agreed with him in principle, but has held out for this opening sentence, "Take your hands off me," the duchess cried.

"It has the three things that interest people most—sex, money and high society," he claims. "You could use the sentence day after day after day and your readers would never tire of it."

Maybe they wouldn't—but I would. And so let us say goodbye forever to the rolling skull and the crying duchess.

For some reason many readers are interested in the behind-the-scenes trials and tribulations of writing a daily newspaper column. Today I'd like to answer some of the questions most often asked me during my 12 years of buried life.

Q. Do you own a yacht?
A. "No!"
Q. Is it hard getting a new idea every day?
A. No harder than it would be to give blood every day.

Q. My son, who is in the 6th grade and says the cutest things, wants to be a columnist. What should I do?
A. Hold his head under cold water; repeat whenever necessary. Q. What really is the best training for a columnist?
A. Ditch digging, flagpole sitting and strip teasing.

Q. How does a columnist really get most of his ideas?
A. Crying himself to sleep.
Q. Columnists are always crusading to change the world. Which of your crusades are you proudest of?
A. My lifelong attempt to gain more recognition each year for the second robin of spring.

Q. Does a columnist need a good memory?
A. No. He needs a bad memory. Otherwise he couldn't write the same idea 10 times over and still keep a clear conscience.

Q. Do columnists like each other?
A. Sure, the same way women like each other.

Q. Why are columnists always setting up straw dummies and knocking them over?
A. They have found that if they hit real people, the real people hit back—and that hurts.

Q. Do most columnists write from an inner need? If so, what is it?
A. Hunger.

Q. What is the greatest problem that could face a columnist?
A. Having to write a column on a typewriter with a broken "I" key.

Q. What is the one thing a columnist needs most to become successful?
A. A successful employer with a sense of humor.

Build Rocket to Carry Man Up 100 Miles

LOS ANGELES (U)—A rocket plane capable of carrying a pilot to a height of 100 miles—that's the project reportedly assigned to North American Aviation Corp.

The Los Angeles Times said in its editions today that North American will have two years to complete the job, with backing of the Air Force, Navy and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

The goal is almost six times the altitude record of 90,000 feet set last year by Maj. Arthur Murray in a Bell X-1 rocket research craft.

An unmanned single-stage rocket has risen 158 miles. North American declined comment.

Roof Not Only Hazard

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—Hubert M. McCorkle, 37, is a man who believes that falling isn't the only danger found on rooftops. While working on a house near a wooded area yesterday he was struck in the wrist by a rifle bullet. Police said it may have come from a hunter's gun.

'Solid South' May Regain Solidarity

POINT CLEAR, Ala. (AP)—The once "Solid South" may regain some of its solidarity in the 1956 election, if the Southern governors conference is an indication.

Chief executives of the 16 Southern and border states making up the governors conference were largely in apparent agreement — at this pre-campaign stage — on two things:

1. That there were few signs presently of a third party movement. The main dissenter to that belief was Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina. He said he believes a third party movement is "a strong possibility."

2. That the Republicans, without President Eisenhower as a candidate, would have little chance of carrying a Southern State.

Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina supported the Thurmond-Wright States Rights Ticket in 1948. Four others—Florida, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia—went Republican in 1952.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, one of two Republican governors in the conference, stated his party would have a hard time without a candidate of "Eisenhower's philosophy."

Most of the state executives apparently frowned on a possible Southern coalition designed to give the region a stronger voice at the national convention.

There were indications though of sentiment for pre-convention discussion aimed at an "agreement" on a nominee and a candidate.

In major business yesterday, the governors voted to set up a Southwide cooperative effort to promote industrial development in the region.

The Southern Regional Education Board, a subsidiary of the governors conference, was authorized to call a Southwide conference to draw up details of a program aimed at obtaining 10,000 new manufacturing plants for the region during the next 10 years.

Saarlanders Are Subjected To New Pressure

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar (AP)—Saarlanders were under new pressure from the French and West German governments today to put themselves under European authority in voting this weekend.

The million people of this rich coal and steel valley vote Sunday in a yes-or-no plebiscite on the French-German accord of October 1954, intended to settle the bitter contentions over the border territory's future.

The compact, part of the bargain for German rearmament in NATO, provides for the Saar (1) a firm economic and customs union with France, (2) internal self-government and (3) supervision of its foreign relations by a high commissioner appointed by the seven-nation Western European Union.

Pro-German parties in the German-speaking valley have campaigned bitterly against the proposed Europeanization statute. They want to return to the German fatherland. Once before, when Hitler was in power in Germany, 90 per cent of the Saar's voters decided in a plebiscite in 1935 to cast off a League of Nations trusteeship and go back to Germany.

Zanzibar Citizens Get Hand in Government

LONDON (AP)—The people of Zanzibar, where most of the world's gloves come from, are going to get a hand in their own government for the first time. British Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd approved today a plan to put Zanzibaris on the island's executive council, a policy-making body.

The colonial secretary said "he looked forward to the time when a popular government could be elected."

And an aide of Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) said in Washington he knew of no such request by his senator. Stennis himself could not be reached immediately.

All three legislators are members of the Senate Appropriations Committee in Europe on committee business. The Defense Department said yesterday it is sending two big four-engine transport planes to bring them home, at an estimated round-trip cost of $20,000.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Robert T. Ross said the special planes took off yesterday for Madrid, where it was due to pick up McClellan and Stennis Sunday.

Writes Letter Asking For Consideration Of Waterway Plan

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) has written the Bureau of the Budget urging favorable consideration for the seven year $5 million dollar agricultural levee program covering the Missouri River from Rulo, Neb., to Kansas City.

The program was presented to the bureau by the Missouri River Flood Protection Assn.

In a letter to Rowland R. Hughes, budget director, the senator said from 1943 to 1952 the total damages and costs of fighting floods and levee repairs was $69,347,000, nearly double the amount needed to complete the projects.

"From a strictly financial point of view," he said, "it seems evident that it costs much more not to have the levees than it would cost to build them."

Symington pointed out that a number of levee districts would have to be reorganized if work is not started soon. Under Missouri law, organized levee district must initiate construction within five years or be dissolved.

The letter to Hughes, dated Oct. 17, was released today.

Life Back to Normal In Henry Co. Today

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Life was nearer normal in Henry County today with martial law lifted and taverns open again, but National Guardsmen were still on duty and the curfew was still in effect.

The CIO United Auto Workers union was still on strike at the Perfect Circle Corp. foundry, and Gov. George N. Craig was accused by a union spokesman of failing for the third time to keep his word.

The Guard moved in the night of Oct. 5 after eight persons were wounded in a riot involving strike sympathizers outside the foundry and nonstrikers inside. Full martial law was imposed by Gov. Craig Oct. 10 and lifted yesterday.

The governor left 150 Guardsmen on duty here under civil authority. At its peak, the Guard force numbered 1,000, including those stationed at the Hagerstown and Richmond plants of the company.

Peace Talks With Russia Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's peace talks with Russia were spread on the record today as Secretary of State Dulles prepared to take up where the President left off at the Geneva Big Four conference.

They included Eisenhower's assurance to Russia that "under no circumstances is the United States ever going to be a party to aggressive war—against any nation."

An 88-page booklet of about 40,000 words, made public late yesterday by the State Department, included formal statements made by Eisenhower and other heads of government at the summit conference last July.

These statements already had been reported in substance. However, the record included the texts of about a half dozen of Eisenhower's statements which had never been made fully public. Only previously published statements by the other principals were released.

Eisenhower protested Russia's contention that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, whose forces Eisenhower headed in 1951 as first supreme commander, was aggressively aimed at the Soviet.

The record reflects Eisenhower's insistence that he, Soviet Premier Bulganin, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure could only define the East-West issues, leaving it to their foreign ministers to seek solutions.

It is for this task that Dulles leaves late today. The Big Four foreign ministers' session starts at Geneva next Thursday but Dulles is stopping first at Rome for conferences with Italian government officials. He goes Sunday to Paris for a pre-Geneva huddle with NATO and British and French leaders.

Police Check Two New Leads In Boys' Death

CHICAGO (AP)—Police today checked two new leads in the strangulation murders of three young boys.

Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman said a lie test would be given to a 47-year-old unemployed laborer who told of sleeping Monday night, along with his deaf mute brother, in the wooded area where the victims' bodies were found Tuesday afternoon.

Indiana authorities were questioning a 19-year-old girl who said she "knew who the fellows was in the slaying of Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother Anton Jr., 11."

Lohman said the lie test was planned for Edward Rohlfes, father of nine children.

He said Rohlfes and his brother Herman, 52, were picked up after a forest ranger reported seeing a panel truck bearing the name "Rohlfes" in the Robinson Woods Monday night, not far from the ditch where the victims' naked bodies were found.

Lohman said Edward was held without charge, but Herman was released.

Lohman said both brothers denied knowing anything about the murders and said they had not seen any bodies either Monday night or when they left the woods Tuesday morning.

Spurns Dulles Request

U.S. Secretary Of State Had Asked Red China Renounce The Use Of Force

TOKYO, Friday, Oct. 21 (AP)—Red China today in effect spurned Secretary of State Dulles' request that it renounce the use of force, saying it was the United States that was guilty of using force.

Peiping radio quoted at length from People's Daily, official Chinese Communist party newspaper, which again vowed to "liberate" Nationalist Formosa, with force if necessary.

A Condition Before Any Talks
Dulles repeatedly has urged Red China to renounce the use of force in international disputes. Only this week he made it clear at a news conference this was one condition before any high-level talks with the Peiping regime can be held.

People's Daily said Red China also "has made it clear" at ambassadorial-level talks at Geneva it wants higher-level meetings with the United States to settle disputes between the two nations "by peaceful means and not by force."

People's Daily denounced as a "slander" Dulles' speech Oct. 10 before the American Legion in which he said the Chinese Communists seized power by force.

Terms Nationalist Fall 'Victory'
People's Daily said the fall of the Nationalists was "a great victory of the Chinese people's revolution." Then as to Formosa the newspaper declared:

"The exercise by the Chinese people of their own sovereign rights in the liberation of their own territory of Taiwan (Formosa) is China's internal affair. It brooks no intervention by any other country."

"It is precisely the use of armed force by the United States in the seizure and holding of Taiwan and other coastal islands that has brought about tension in the Taiwan area," People's Daily concluded.

Finn Twin Says They Could Not Contact Friends

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP)—One of the flying Finn twins testified today they were spirited away from Southern California by federal officers to the Springfield, Mo., federal medical facility without being able to contact friends, relatives or lawyers.

George Finn resumed the witness stand for the second day before Sen. Langer (R-N.D.), sitting as a one-man senate subcommittee on constitutional rights. Langer is inquiring into treatment of the Finns after they were taken into custody to begin one-year sentences following their conviction of interfering with a federal officer.

The charge resulted from their "citizen's arrest" of U. S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters in a four-year battle with the government over ownership of a war surplus plane.

George said that upon arriving at the Springfield facility the twins were separated, put in solitary cells and held incommunicado for 71 days.

He testified yesterday it took 30 days for a letter the twins wrote to reach Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif.). He said the warden had told them their letters would be censored.

McGrath's Preference For Demo Nomination Is Estes Kefauver

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 20 (AP)—J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman under President Truman, said today his first preference for the Democratic presidential nomination is Sen. Estes Kefauver, if the Tennessee is a candidate.

The former Rhode Island governor, U.S. senator and U.S. attorney general, now a Washington attorney, said in an interview it would be unfair to attribute to him the influences that led the Young Democrats of Rhode Island last night to decline to endorse Adlai Stevenson for the nomination.

McGrath said he is not "against" Stevenson but that he believes Kefauver has the widest popular appeal. Next in order, he said, he would favor Stevenson and then Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

VICTIMS OF BRUTAL SLAYING—These are the three young boys whose slaying and battered bodies were found in a ditch just west of Chicago Tuesday. Make Door-to-Door Hunt For Clues—

Continue Search For Chicago Boy Slayers

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Hand-picked detectives today made a door-to-door search for clues in the slaying of three boys, while a scientist deduced the youths had been given savage beatings by two or more grown men.

The task force of officers hunted in the area where the victims—Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11—vanished Sunday night.

Find Pair Of Blue Jeans
A pair of blue jeans, ripped at the seams as if they had been torn off, were found in a vacant lot at 4681 Milwaukee Ave. This is about a block from the spot where the three youths stepped off a bus at 9 p.m. Sunday.

Detective Roy Hauser and Robert Ladko said the jeans could have fit any of the young victims. They were wearing jeans Sunday, but their bodies were naked when they were found Tuesday in the Robinson Woods area, four miles west of Milwaukee Avenue in Chicago's Northwest Side.

Police planned to show the jeans to the parents of the boys to see if they could identify them.

Figures 2 Or More Kidnappers
Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's pathologist who studied the bodies said he figures the boys were kidnapped by two or more sadists—persons who take an abnormal delight in cruelty—and the young prisoners had put up a terrific battle.

Other policemen made the rounds of riding stables in the area in the hope of finding tape of the two-inch width which had sealed the eyes and mouths of the youths while they were held captive.

Sedalia's Television Story—

Hinlein Reports On Effort To Get KDRO-TV Network

Explanation of the progress being made by KDRO-TV in an effort to return CBS programs to the Sedalia area, was made by Station Owner Milton Hinlein in a talk over the local station.

"As television fans," Hinlein said, "I honestly believe we are associates together in getting these programs which you rightfully deserve."

Continuing, Hinlein said in part: "Long before you were aware of the fact that you were to be deprived of these CBS programs, I was in New York City fighting to do something about it."

End Martial Law In Strike Areas Of Ind. Foundry

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Martial law ended in the Perfect Circle Corp. strike areas today. Gov. George N. Craig said he was assured a reduced force of National Guard Troops, operating under civil control, could maintain order.

The troops on duty in the eastern Indiana area were cut from 330 to 150 by Craig's order. All troops were withdrawn from Hagerstown. Those kept on duty will serve in Henry County and New Castle, the county seat.

Last Monday Craig lifted martial law in Richmond and cut the number of troops on duty from 1,000 to 600. A later order, which was to have been effective at noon today, cut the number to 330.

The governor called out the Guard the night of Oct. 5 after eight persons suffered gunshot wounds in a riot outside the piston ring firm's foundry in New Castle.

More than 1,200 members and sympathizers of the striking CIO United Auto Worker's Union marched on the plant. Shots were fired from the plant and returned from the crowd.

Craig imposed full martial law Oct. 10 after returning from a Bahamas vacation and holding a conference with union, company and civil officials.

Fined $15,000 or Income Tax Evasion

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Morris Epstein, president of the Epstein Chevrolet Co., was fined $15,000 today on his plea of no contest to a charge of federal income tax evasion.

"It could not have been done by boys their own age," Dr. Kearns said. "I believe two or more men might do it."

He reported he had found 10 cuts which reached to the skull, and other more shallow wounds, on young Peterson's head.

Dr. Kearns said the Schuessler boys had been beaten, probably with fists, on the face and forehead, and the younger brother had been punched or kicked in the chest or stomach. All the victims also had been scratched, possibly by fingernails.

Struggle In Car Indicated
The medical scientist said he believed the youngsters had been hauled into a car by two or more men and impressions of a floor mat on one body indicated the struggle began in the auto.

A force of 50 officers joined in the canvass of the Milwaukee Avenue district where the boys vanished into the night. They carried photographs of the boys. The searches were directed to make inquiries at every house and to look into sheds, garages, yards, vacant fields and even sewers.

The hunters sought the place where the slaying occurred, the missing articles of clothing or any bit of helpful information.

Other policemen made the rounds of riding stables in the area in the hope of finding tape of the two-inch width which had sealed the eyes and mouths of the youths while they were held captive.

Dr. Theorell Wins Nobel In Medicine

Made Discoveries On Nature, Action Of Oxidation Enzymes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 20 (AP)—Dr. Hugo Theorell, crippled in both legs by polio, won the 1955 Nobel prize in medicine today for discoveries on the nature and action of oxidation enzymes.

Celebrating the award, the 52-year-old scientist drank champagne and told friends he would use the record cash prize—equivalent to $36,720—to carry on his experimental research and rent a larger apartment. He is married and the father of three sons.

Oxidation enzymes, also called breathing enzymes, are essential to living matter in helping the cells to burn oxygen—that is, to breathe. Enzymes do their work roughly by passing on substances in a chemical chain reaction.

Was Polio Victim
Theorell was stricken by polio when a young man and was forced to abandon his career as a medical practitioner. He now heads the biochemistry department of the Nobel Medical Institute.

The scientist spent his time convalescing from polio by designing intricate puzzle games. When he was able, he gave his full time to the intriguing molecular puzzles that go into the mechanisms of the living cells.

Colleagues say that in his work he always lived by the rule. "From a find to a check, from a check to a plan, from a plan to a kill in the morning."

Short and stocky, he moves with difficulty between the tables of his laboratory, crowded with apparatus he often constructed himself.

Indicted To Foreign Scientists
A modest and retiring man, whose main hobby is playing the violin—he has played solo parts in concerts—Theorell said he was deeply indebted to many foreign scientists.

He mentioned especially last year's Nobel chemistry prize winner, Linus Pauling of the California Institute of Technology, and Prof. Britten Chance of the Johnson Research Foundation, Philadelphia.

He told reporters he regards the production in pure crystalline form of his vital so-called yellow breathing enzyme as his most important discovery.

He said he was at the moment concentrating on one still unexplored enzyme molecule.

"We have solved one-sixth of the puzzle," he added.

Dr. Theorell combines his scientific activities with the presidency of the Stockholm City Philharmonic Co.

His wife, Margit Theorell, is a professional musician.

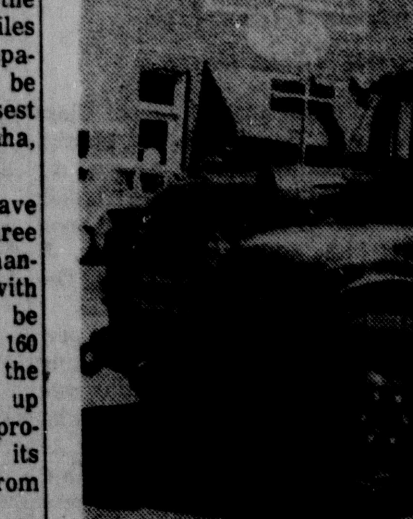

Theorell will receive his cash prize and a Nobel insignia from King Gustaf VI Adolf at ceremonies here Dec. 16.

The case award comes from a nine-million-dollar foundation established by the will of Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

Arrests 18 Youths Riding In, On A Car

ST. JOSEPH, Oct. 20 (AP)—Police Lieut. Leroy Surface didn't get to arrest all the teen-agers he saw on and in one car this afternoon, but he did his best.

He arrested 18 of them, including the driver. The youngsters, all students, were taken to central police station in a police patrol car. Lieutenant Surface said at least two or three men when he halted the car. He was unable to capture them.

Ike Spends Quiet Day In Relaxation

President Will Consult With Atty. Gen. Brownell Today

DENVER, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower put in a "very quiet day" today in a serene 24-hour interlude of rest and relaxation between cabinet-level business conferences.

The President saw Secretary of State Dulles yesterday and will consult tomorrow with Atty. Gen. Brownell. But for today he put all official business aside—not even any papers to sign.

Eisenhower did mark up another "first" as his doctors reported continued satisfactory progress in his recovery from a heart attack.

Visits With Old Friend
He visited for 15 or 20 minutes in his hospital room with Clifford J. Roberts, the New York investment banker who is an old friend and bridge and golfing companion.

It was the first time since his Sept. 24 heart seizure that the chief executive had had a bedside visitor other than members of his family and administration officials.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said he imagines from now on "more and more personal friends" will be allowed to drop in.

Although it was a dull, grey, overcast day—the first since the early days of his illness—the doctors said the President was in a happy, cheerful mood.

Does Some Painting
But he did sit up in a chair for some 40 minutes this morning and dabbled with his oil paints.

The chief executive put a mountain landscape aside and started a new painting during the afternoon while sitting up in bed. The second work is from a print of a California coastal scene, depicting a cypress tree and waves pounding the coast.

The doctors reported in a 5 p.m. (MST) medical bulletin that the president "sept a quiet, restful afternoon," which included some napping and listening to music, along with the painting.

Say False Fire Alarm Was Malicious Call

AMBRIDGE, England, Oct. 20 (AP)—Fire engines responding to a false alarm fell in behind a procession in which Queen Elizabeth II was riding to the Guildhall here today. Firemen had to slow down to avoid disrupting the procession. The alarm came in by telephone just as the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived at Cambridge station on the royal train. Police said it was a "malicious call."

Mac Bound By The Yalta Concessions

Says He Would Have Opposed Them Had He Had A Chance

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today he was bound by the World War I Yalta concessions, although he would have opposed them had he had an opportunity.

Said the wartime Pacific commander in a statement relating to long secret Pentagon records on Yalta:

"I repeat, had my views been requested concerning the secret agreements bearing upon Russia's entrance into the Pacific war I would have opposed them as fantastic."

Advocated Russian Entry
MacArthur freely admitted he advocated Russia's entry into the Pacific War at its very outset. But he said he never repeated the recommendation prior to Yalta.

After Yalta, he declared, he was bound by the decisions made there to bring Russia into the war, even though they were unpalatable to him. MacArthur went on:

"The attempt to interpret my statements I may have made in the course of such post-Yalta discussions as reflecting my pre-Yalta views and convictions is wholly unwarranted."

MacArthur's statement came as the Pentagon records rekindled the old controversy over the Soviet entrance into the Pacific war just six days before Japan's surrender.

Debate Brought Query In March
Last March, a Republican-Democratic debate over Yalta brought up questions on MacArthur's views at that time. MacArthur said then that he had not the slightest connection with the Yalta conference and added:

"Had my views been requested with reference to Yalta I would most emphatically have recommended against bringing the Soviet into the Pacific war at that late date. To have made vital concessions for such a purpose would have seemed to me fantastic."

The Pentagon records—a part of an incomplete 35,000-word file—showed that MacArthur twice concurred directly in the opinion that Russia should move into the conflict against Japan.

Once was shortly after Pearl Harbor. The second was in mid-June 1945, two months before the war ended and after the Yalta conference.

Highway Dept. Will Contract For $25 1/2 Million In Road Work

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20 (AP)—A state official said today the Missouri Highway Department will contract for more than 25 1/2 million dollars worth of work in the next eight months in an effort to catch up on highway construction in the St. Louis area.

Rex M. Whitton, the highway department's chief engineer, told a civic club luncheon group here the plans are subject to authorization by S. Louis County voters of a bond issue at a Nov. 22 election.

The proposed spending would include 17 million dollars for improvements in urban areas, of which more than 11 1/2 millions would be for projects within St. Louis.

Two projects in the city would be for a start on the first leg of the Mark Twain Expressway and for construction of a Market Street cutoff on the Daniel Boone Expressway, which would extend the present express highway eastward.

Pros. Atty. Edward W. Garnholz of St. Louis County said he would present the matter to a grand jury. The investigation has been in progress several days.

Charged in temporary warrants issued today by Police Magistrate Raymond Harris were Patrolman John Patrick Graham of Wellston, accused of second degree burglary and larceny, and Quentin Raymond Stewart, accused of receiving stolen property.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20 (AP)—A policeman of suburban Wellston and a man accused of receiving stolen property were charged today in an investigation of an alleged burglary ring.

Backed On Big 4 Plans

Bipartisan Support Given Dulles On Planning For West's Geneva Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles won bipartisan backing in his plans for the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers conference today at a meeting with congressional leaders.

Dulles is leaving tomorrow for the conference with the foreign ministers of Russia, Britain and France opening Oct. 27, at which ways will be sought to ease East-West tensions in line with principles laid down at the Geneva summit conference last July.

No Disagreement Expressed
Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee told reporters after a two-hour meeting with Dulles at the State Department that none of the Republicans and Democrats present had expressed any disagreement with the secretary's plans.

Others agreed with George and said the program laid down was such that the entire Congress could support it.

One conferee quoted Dulles as saying he was anxious to hear the attitude of the congressional leaders because he felt he might be accused of making free wheeling decisions at Geneva with President Eisenhower out of action.

Dulles was reported to have told the group that if the program he had outlined for the conference had the backing of both parties he'd like to know it. If there was any disagreement he wanted to know it now.

Assures Word On Developments
George told a news conference that Dulles had assured the congressional leaders he would keep in touch with them on any new developments that arise at the conference.

The Georgia senator said Dulles told the leaders that President Eisenhower is "vitaly concerned and keenly alert to the whole situation."

For himself, George said he was very hopeful the Geneva conference would produce some good results, adding:

"The greatest opportunity of the century to do something for the stability of the world is at hand if we will grasp it."

District Engineer Of CAA Visits Sedalia Airport

Ben F. King, district engineer of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, Kansas City, was a visitor at the Sedalia Municipal Memorial Airport Thursday morning.

King with D. Kelly Scruton, chairman of the City Airport Committee, discussed plans for a sod runway at the field which will run north and south. He had already marked off the tentative runway with stakes and today discussed what procedure should be taken in putting the plan into effect.

At present it has been decided to make a 200-foot wide runway which will cross the present paved runway which is a southwest-northwest runway. Its construction in accordance with the plan will not be too expensive, but will afford excellent landing conditions for pilots of smaller planes.

King also discussed the possibilities of improving the present paved runway in enlarging it and building it up to meet requirements for the bringing in to Sedalia of a feeder line. This discussion was brought about by the request of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce for information needed to secure some airline company to place Sedalia on a feeder line.

The city anticipates starting work in the near future in preparing the sod runway at a minimum cost.

Policeman, Another Man Held In Probe Of Alleged Burglary Ring

Valleaus Take First Vacation In Seven Years

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Valleau, owners of the Carr-Vall Dinner Bell, Ninth and Limit, leave Tuesday on a long-awaited vacation and rest. They came to Sedalia in October, 1948, and opened the Kelly's Drive In, later changed to Carr-Vall, and this is the first vacation in their seven years in business here.

At that time they served plate lunches, fountain drinks and sandwiches, then in March, 1953, they began to accomplish a long waited dream — remodeling to have a first class dining room serving complete meals. It was completed and the re-opening took place on May 3, 1953.

Five years after they opened the Drive-In and became better acquainted with Sedalia and the trade area, their decision to expand was made, giving not only local persons but the traveling public a nice place to go to eat with plenty of parking room for their cars. The remodeling was done 2 1/2 years ago at a cost exceeding $15,000.

"We have been very happy with the change made and especially with coming here to make our home," Valleau said. "During our time in business we have not only had Sedalians and Missourians eating with us, but over the years many tourists from Canada, Mexico, and several other foreign countries," he stated.

"Now after seven years of long hours, hard work and the pleasure of serving nice people, we are taking our first vacation," Mrs. Valleau said.

In Monday's Democrat and Tuesday's Capital an ad will announce the closing and reopening dates.

A Young Mother Cries In Middle of Holdup

GLENDORA, Calif. — A young mother laid her pistol down and began to cry in the middle of a holdup attempt Friday night, sheriff's deputies reported.

Mrs. Hallie Mae Long, 20, of nearby Azusa, mother of two girls, Denine, 1, and Linda, 2, and expecting a third child, was booked on suspicion of armed robbery. Her husband, Huey P. Long, 21, is a construction worker.

Liquor store clerk Reno Tonsi told deputies she came in carrying a paper sack and said: "This is a holdup."

"I guess you must be kidding," Tonsi replied, but she took an old style .45 from the sack, whereupon Tonsi handed her a fistful of bills.

He said she stared at the money a moment, said "That's not enough," put down the gun and began to cry. Then she said tearfully: "I didn't want to do it any-how."

Deputies said that later she told them she had spent some of $200 entrusted to her by her brother and when he asked her for $100 of his money "I was too proud to explain there was only $38 left."

Many Special Guests on Hand--

Helen G. Steele Music Club Has Surprise Meeting in Honor of Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey

Mrs. Edwin Forrest Yancey, who has been president of the Helen G. Steele Music Club since 1920 and life president since 1925, was completely surprised by members of the organization at the first meeting of the club for the fall season Wednesday afternoon.

That it was to be a luncheon and that Mrs. John W. Mueller, St. Louis, president of the Missouri Federation of Music Clubs, was to be a guest, she knew. After all she had invited Mrs. Mueller last spring herself. What she didn't know was that four other state and national officers were going to be there, too, and that the luncheon and entire day was dedicated to her for the wonderful work she had done through the years not only in the Helen G. Steele Music Club but in the state federation as well.

The special guests for Mrs. Yancey's luncheon besides Mrs. Mueller, were Mrs. Fred C. Trigg, of Kansas City, treasurer of the Missouri Federation of Music Clubs; Mrs. E. A. Duesing of Jefferson City, a national board member and a past president of the Missouri Federation of Music Clubs; becoming almost extinct but the Helen G. Steele Music Club has an American Beauty Rose of its own, Mrs. Yancey.

Mrs. Duesing, who has known Mrs. Yancey all of her life, gave a very glowing tribute to her saying that Mrs. Yancey had always been her inspirati n. She told of Mrs. Yancey's graciousness, her loveliness and her charm that made her such a beautiful character.

Other tributes came from Mrs. Mueller, Mrs. Newbill, Mrs. Lyon and Mrs. Trigg as well as the officers of the Helen G. Steele Music Club and members.

Mrs. Al Miles, program chairman, presented Mrs. William Hurlbut Jr., co-chairman, who called attention to the unusually fine programs for the year. Both told of plans for the year.

This was to be the annual luncheon for new members and there were 13 welcomed into the organization. They were: Mrs. Joseph Long, Mrs. Clayton Haire, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. W. J. Knight, Mrs. Donald French, Mrs. N. B. Patton, Mrs. Tom Wilson, Mrs. W. B. Rich, Mrs. Robert Crouch, Mrs. Burris Carter, Mrs. John Van Dyne and Mrs. Luther Luckett.

This was the new member program, too, and Mrs. George Lovercamp, chairman, presented the new members as follows: Mrs. Burris Carter who sang, "Siboney," with Mrs. Paul Berthouex as accompanist; piano duet by Mrs. W. J. Knight and Mrs. Clayton Haire, who played "Blue Moon" and a piano solo, Grieg Piano Concerto, by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins.

The chorus, directed by Mrs. Lovercamp, sang: "Let There Be Music" and "Vienna My City of Dreams." In the chorus were Mrs. Burris Carter, Mrs. Joe Long, Mrs. Don Anderson, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. Robert Crouch, Mrs. Clayton Haire, Mrs. Tom Wilson, Mrs. W. J. Knight and Mrs. N. B. Patton.

Mrs. Mueller gave an interesting talk on the "Inspiration Plot Project" which is the project for youthful musicians.

The luncheon tables were very attractive with arrangements of autumn flowers and on the speaker's table was a beautiful centerpiece of flowers from Hawaii which was loaned for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark Longan who had received them on their wedding anniversary.

The thing that perhaps surprised Mrs. Yancey most was the yearbook which was dedicated to her. In it was her picture and a poem written by Hazel N. Lang. The poem follows:

WAC 1st Lt. F. G. Marsh types one of the many confidential reports she's handled during her Army career.

WAC Officer Has Been The Secretary to 3 Top Generals

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Want a nice job? Then work for a "nice man."

That's the advice of WAC 1st Lt. Olive F. G. Marsh. And she should know. Since 1946 she has been confidential secretary — to Gen. George C. Marshall, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

"And the bigger they come," she says, "the nicer they are."

It is still hard for the Cleveland, Ohio, WAC to realize how closely she has been walking with history in Washington.

The material she has processed — confidential and classified — will forever be part of this nation's permanent record.

The "good mornings" she has said have been to men whose names are already in text books.

There was one good morning, for example, when she watched President Truman elevate General Bradley to five-star rank. On that same afternoon Bradley pinned on her gold lieutenant's bars — just so her commission would bear the same date as his own promotion.

One morning, she remembers, General Eisenhower looked in at her office in the Pentagon to say hello.

"I was congratulating him on the success of his book, 'Crusade in Europe.' He warned me not to buy one, to 'just wait.' I waited until Christmas and received an autographed copy. . . 'From your friend. . . .'"

In 1946, as an enlisted woman in the Women's Army Corps, she was assigned to General Marshall's secretarial force. A year later, when Eisenhower became Chief of Staff, she was promoted to classified papers and military correspondence. And when Bradley became Chief of Staff, she became his private secretary.

In 1953 — after seven years in the Pentagon — she rejoined the staff of her former boss who had become President of the United States.

This time, her job was listed as administrative assistant to Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, personal physician to the President. Her office in the White House is on President Eisenhower's route to his own office.

They would say "good afternoon" nearly every day — not "good morning" because the Chief Executive got to work earlier than anybody else on his staff.

She remembers the afternoon several years ago when, as General of the Army, he pinned a green and white commendation ribbon on her.

He had been a little awkward at the ceremony and explained: "I'm not used to pinning these things on women."

Olive F. G. Marsh is a little awkward, too, in taking any credit for the kind of jobs she's held — cheek by jowl with history.

"That F. G." in the middle of my name, she says, "stands for 'fairly good' — no more."

Mrs. Yancey felt before the luncheon that maybe the members wanted her to retire, they just didn't let her in on any of the plans for the day and very sweetly told her they were getting along nicely themselves with the program, the details of the luncheon and everything. She couldn't help feeling she was being slighted and was a little hurt. But she went to the luncheon anyway.

Mrs. H. C. Johnson, vice-president, opened the afternoon meeting by saying the flower of the Helen G. Steele Music Club was the American Beauty Rose, but now the American Beauty Rose is becoming almost extinct but the Helen G. Steele Music Club has an American Beauty Rose of its own, Mrs. Yancey.

Stover Begins New Elementary School Building

Construction has begun at Stover on a new eight-room elementary school building with lunchroom facilities in the basement, and a new auditorium-gymnasium to house the physical education and music departments, according to Jesse E. Walters, superintendent of schools in District R-1.

The district has a four-year-old, eight-room building which will be converted into an up-to-date high school in the future. This plan will give the district a central location for most of the 600 pupils of school age. About 50 pupils will continue elementary school in the present brick building at Florence.

The Florence building is scheduled for remodeling and a dressing up program which will include kitchen, lunchroom, indoor water system and all-purpose play-room.

The high school also absorbs eighth grade graduates from the St. Paul's Lutheran School in Stover, which has about 75 pupils in average attendance.

Sutherland Brothers Construction Co. of Mountain Grove were low bidders on the project and are now at work on the job. Glen Drew, of Poplar Bluff, is the architect.

Livestock Loans Are Extended

The special livestock loan program, designated to help livestock producers continue their normal operations when other suitable credit is not available, has been extended for another two years. Farmers Home Administration county supervisor Oscar H. DeWolf said this week.

The lending program, which is handled by the Farmers Home Administration, was first set up in the summer of 1953. Mr. DeWolf explained. The Congress recently extended the authority for another two years, or through July 14, 1957.

During the two years the original authorization was in effect, the agency made 6,382 loans for more than $54 million to livestock producers throughout the country. About $35 million of this amount was loaned during the first year.

Special livestock loans are made to established producers and feeders of cattle, sheep, and goats (except commercial feedlot operators) who are temporarily unable to get from regular sources the credit needed to continue their normal operations.

To be eligible, an applicant must have a good past record of livestock operations and have reasonable prospects for success with the help of the loan.

The loans are made to meet the usual expenses of livestock operations such as the purchase or production of feed, and replacing or repairing of farm machinery. A borrower may also restock his herd to normal size if he can carry his present herd plus the additional livestock to be bought, without buying a substantial portion of his feed. Loans are not made to pay existing debts except current incidental bills.

The loans are to be repaid as soon as possible within three years. Other creditors are not asked to subordinate their liens but are expected to execute under agreements and agree that a reasonable part of the applicant's normal livestock income can be used in repaying the loan.

nel groups line up. There is no channel 1, so the first group is 2, 3 and 4. The next group is 5 and 6. And the last group is 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. We couldn't be given channels 2 or 11, as similar channel allocations are closer than 100 miles and would thus upset the national formula of channel allocations. Other stations would have a legitimate fight if we were moved to an adjacency near them, wouldn't they? For example, if Sedalia was moved to Channel 3 it would be adjacent to 4 of WDAF (and by the way, 4 and 5, as I just explained, are in different groups, so they can be placed adjacent in the same town even as they are in Kansas City). Channel 7 is adjacent to 8-10 adjacent to 9 and 12 is adjacent to Channel 13. So there is no channel to go to other than where we are, or give TV up entirely in this area. I am not accepting that move of porridge for the Sedalia area without a fight—and I hope you my television associates, are with me.

"So your conclusion must be that in this planning by the Federal Communications Commission, they most naturally did not anticipate an objection by a network to furnishing their programs to an adjacent blocking channel 88 miles away, because, while we block the adjacent channel at that distance, that channel in turn blocks us.

"So Channel 5 is our legitimate and logical target for self-preservation, unless we want to give up like a pack of yellow hounds and allow Kansas City to dominate our area with a long distance and hence greatly inferior signal. And this new power and antenna that Channel 5 is undertaking is just so much talk to keep us delayed and dangling that much longer. I have much technical expert opinion to bear me out on this, which opinion includes Wells Chapen of New York City. Mr. Chapen is the top television transmitter man of General Electric Co. Mr. Chapen told me just last week that at this distance, Channel 5 will not break through Channel 6 regardless of its increased power. So the fight is now—or forever after hold our peace, unless you are content to be a string to the Kansas City kite.

Charged With First Degree Kidnaping

TOPEKA — Indictments charging two persons with first degree kidnaping were returned by a federal grand jury here yesterday.

Archie Smith Jr., Stilwell, Kan., and Thomas Arthur Cochran, Belton, Mo., were indicted. They are alleged to have forced Mrs. Vera Kelly, Kansas City, Mo., to accompany them from Dodson, Mo., last June to a point near Stilwell where they assaulted her.

Under federal law the maximum penalty for first degree kidnaping is death if a trial jury so recommends.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS

The Pentagon report and General MacArthur's reply leave us just where we were with regard to Russian participation in the Japanese war and the price paid for it by the Allies.

The fact is that Roosevelt and Churchill acted on military advice in trying to get Russia into the war. The price they paid, in territory that wasn't their's and concessions of Chinese rights without consulting China, can be argued about all night. The military reports and MacArthur's statements do indicate that many believed Russia would enter and take what she wanted regardless of the concessions, and that if the Allied leaders were giving away something they didn't own, they also were merely giving away something Russia was going to have anyway.

The implication, by omission of some of the facts, that Russia entered only at the last moment to seize unearned benefits, after failing to relay Japan's surrender feelers to the Allies, is a distortion. Russia, for her own reasons, didn't relay news of the Japanese feelers, and it is quite possible she didn't want peace before she could get to the front. But she did enter the Far Eastern war three months after the German surrender, as she had agreed.

The main failure of the Allied leaders was in ignoring the fact that the things for which Russia asked their approval were part of a formula, made blatantly public over a long period of years, for Communist conquest of all Asia.

As for the political gambits of the MacArthur-Democratic dispute over pre-Yalta and post-Yalta details, neither side seems to have made much hay. MacArthur still says he favored Russian participation immediately after Pearl Harbor, cooled off on it by 1944 when things were going to suit him in his own war, and was merely pursuing the Yalta verdict in his references to Russia entry thereafter.

The Pentagon report doesn't show that he was asked or gave his advice directly in connection with Yalta, as the Democrats implied, and he says he wasn't and didn't. As for what he might have said had he been asked, we have his word that he didn't want Russia then, and you can't go behind that. The record shows other military leaders were warning up and then cooling off about Russian participation from time to time, too.

Hindsight frequently interferes with what historians select as the most pertinent part of a given record, as well as with personal recollections of attitudes at given times. That makes humans, but not liars, out of those involved.

All we can be sure of is that if Russia had done what she was going to do anyway, without Allied approval if necessary, the world would have had notice, a year or so before it did, of what it should have known all the time about her postwar intentions.
